

2007 Jefferson Awards For Outstanding Service Benefiting Local Communities

Brief Explanation...

The Jefferson Awards were founded in 1972 to honor the highest ideals and achievements in the field of public service in the United States. This prestigious national honor recognizes individuals throughout the country performing great public service, but largely without recognition.

To nominate someone for the Jefferson Award fill out this form and detail why you think someone performing a significant but unrecognized public service should be considered. For example, you could nominate an individual who helps senior citizens, children, the disadvantaged, the mentally retarded or someone who strives to improve education, culture, health care, and the environment. Or it could be someone who promotes public safety and so on.

The nominee can be a volunteer or paid employee with no age limit. Elected officials or well known individuals are not eligible due to the fact that they already receive significant recognition. Anyone in the South Central Kentucky area is eligible.
